

B

I

N

G

O

1

Write a play using your favorite picture book or a chapter from the book you are reading now.

Prepare ten great test questions for a topic you love. Be sure to include different types of questions and an answer key.

Find some food in your house. List the name and all nutritional info. Do you think it's healthy? Why/why not? Write a persuasive essay.

Write all the steps in how to do/make something. It can be how to make a PBJ, how to make a bed, how to get ready...! The choice is yours!

Find a text that has a chart, table, or graph. Recreate the text feature you found. Write 5 questions you can answer using the text feature.

2

Think about the book you are currently reading. If you could step into the story, what is the first thing you would do and why?

Pretend your current book is turned into a movie. What would the poster look like? Draw the poster.

Choose six verbs from your book and illustrate them. Hunt for six adjectives and illustrate what they are describing.

Homophones are words that sound the same, but are spelled differently and have different meanings. Write & illustrate 3 sets of homophones.

Choose your favorite book and create a comic strip showing the events in order.

3

Write a letter to someone using the friendly letter format.

Write a paragraph explaining how one character in your book shows specific traits and attitudes. Use evidence from the book.

Create a brochure about a place you would like to visit.

Keep a journal. Write each day about what you do. Use descriptive details.

Create your own nature ABC book. Example: A is for ants that can carry more than 5,000 times their body weight.

4

Find a sentence or two of figurative language in your book. Write it down and explain what it really means.

Design a board game based on your book. Get creative, but make sure it is relevant to the story line.

Create a collage that represents your character. This may be words, pictures, or a little of both!

Design a new book cover. Write a new summary on the back. Be careful not to have any spoilers!

Create a timeline of your life. Plot important events. Explain why you chose each of these events?

5

Write book trailer for your book. Perform it for someone in your family or record it and send it to your teacher.

Write a book review of a book you read. Did you like it? What was good or bad about it? Why should someone else read it?

Hide 4-5 item. Write clues or riddles about where to find them. Include a map and invite your family to find the items.

Take one of your favorite books and turn it into a poem or song.

Write a summary of your book including the character's name and major events. Make sure to use transition words.